FUND OBJECTIVE

The fund strives for long-term capital growth as well as some level of capital protection. Through the use of a quantitative risk model, the fund aims to profit from a rising share market and protect against capital losses in a weak market.

WHO IS THIS FUND FOR?

This fund is suited to investors who strive for long-term capital growth as well as some level of capital protection.

INVESTMENT MANDATE

The fund invests across shares, bonds and cash and may gain exposure to foreign assets up to a maximum of 30% of its portfolio (with an additional 10% for African ex-SA investments) – moving from shares into fixed interest investments when the fund’s value drops below a predetermined “floor”. When markets start to move up, the fund increases its holdings in shares, tapping into these growth opportunities. Derivatives may also be tactically used to manage and limit downside risk and to capture or lock in gains as and when they occur.

REGULATION 28 COMPLIANCE

The fund complies with retirement fund legislation. It is therefore suitable as a stand-alone fund in retirement products where Regulation 28 compliance is specifically required.

FUND COMMENTARY

Q4 2019 saw some optimism return to global asset markets, as a US-China trade agreement to partially roll back tariffs, increase agricultural purchases, and ensure intellectual property protection, was reportedly reached. The quarter kicked off with the US Federal Reserve cutting rates by 25 basis points for the third consecutive time, although it hinted at a pause in further policy easing. In the UK, the Conservative Party’s majority election win has provided some political stability, paving the way for the Brexit date currently set at 31 January 2020. Concerns around a slowdown in global economic growth do, however, persist and it remains to be seen for how long central banks can continue with monetary policy easing.

The MSCI World Index (developed market proxy) was up strongly, returning 8.6% over the quarter in US dollar terms, with the S&P 500 Index up 9.1% despite ongoing concerns about elevated US stock valuations. Locally, a disappointing Medium-Term Budget Policy Statement (MTBPS) delivered in October prompted a sharp negative reaction in bond markets. While a timeline was laid out for the restructuring of Eskom into three separate units, there was no firm detail on debt restructuring or cost reduction. This culminated in both Moody’s and S&P placing South African sovereign ratings on a negative outlook during the course of November. Despite the poor growth outlook and inflation numbers that keep surprising on the downside, the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) opted to keep rates on hold, which will not doubt maintain pressure on severely indebted local consumers.

Despite the gloomy local backdrop, the FTSE/JSE All Share Index reversed the losses of the previous quarter, advancing 4.6% in Q4, with the MSCI Emerging Markets Index returning 11.8% in US dollar terms. The rand advanced 7.5% over the quarter relative to the US dollar, ending the quarter at R14 per dollar.

At a portfolio level, our effective equity exposure fluctuated between 49.3% and 58.9%, closing out the quarter around 56%. While we are currently tilted in favour of offshore equities over domestic equities due to the aforementioned domestic growth and fiscal concerns, we are wary that local assets are currently trading at depressed valuation levels, and will therefore look to take advantage of this as and when buying opportunities arise.

Given the well-diversified nature of the Dynamic Floor Fund and its moderate exposure to growth assets, the fund will continue to deliver returns in a risk-controlled framework with reduced volatility. The portfolio is still well positioned to meaningfully participate in any further equity market rallies. We do, however, remain cautious and are well placed to protect capital should markets retrace. This approach has served the portfolio well as it continues to provide the optimal blend of exposure to growth assets and capital protection.
